

When Frank Wang was 16 years old, he became John's first paid employee in 1981. After Frank earned a degree in mathematics from Princeton University and a doctorate in pure mathematics from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT), he agreed to become John's CEO for Saxon Publishers.

